

WARNING: Zombies DO Exist! (aka Are You Living?)

"We have just been handed a written report from our reporter in the field. It is being provided as-is."

[REPORTER'S REPORT: Sep 17, 2014]

I have just walked the city and can confirm that ZOMBIES are Everywhere!

At the grocery store - I have found them pushing shopping carts, their eyes look away as they pass each other. They seem to ignore the living, as they seek out food. Some have made it to checkout lines, their legs speeding up to beat other zombies to the cashier. Then, while the food is scanned, and the employee ask "How are you today?" they only look down at the cash machine, waiting impatiently for their food to be bagged.

On the sidewalk, many of the undead have somehow found cell phones. Little screens keep them busy. When looking up, they quickly go back to the phone to avoid eye contact with the living.

In traffic, they have learned to drive. Their brains seem to be slow, as we have seen them run red lights and zoom around others to save a few seconds. This has also affected their eyes, as the speed limit signs show lower numbers than how fast they actually drive.

They do not speak, instead they tweet, email, and Facebook. I have witnessed some sitting next to each other and only using 'texting' to share thoughts. This seems to show they are losing the ability to open their mouths and speak. The same hazy eyes unable to look at each other.

I have arrived at the hospital, and have some "GOOD NEWS"!

A doctor has found a cure and can turn some of the zombies back to the living. I was handed a piece of paper with the steps. I will provide below.

This is Reporter #1 hoping you are still in the land of the living. If you find yourself becoming infected, or if you know someone it has changed, please use the list below for a cure.

Reporter #1 signing off.

DOCTOR'S CURE LIST

- When working with people, we should ask "How are you doing?" and 'listen' to the answer.
- When walking past another, we should let them know we 'see' them.
- When driving, we should realize other drivers are trying to get somewhere too.
- When using the Internet, our words are read and 'FELT' by another person.
